Prism Visual Software Recognized for Excellence in Business Partnership

Port Washington, NY – March 21, 2005 -- Prism Visual Software, Inc., was recognized for excellence in the business partnership with AccountMate Software Corporation at the recent annual dealer conference, Synergy 2005.

Characterized as “AccountMate’s version of the Oscar Awards” by David Dierke, AccountMate’s President and CEO, the awards were given to several companies that provided valuable consulting and expertise to the AccountMate user community.

Lorraine Keating, the President of Prism Visual Software, Inc., was pleased with the recognition. “We are working hard to offer our integrated mobile routing software to AccountMate users who can benefit from our mobile solution. We believe in customer care and provide the functionality in our software and expertise in our customer relationship management that our customers deserve and expect. I am glad that once again AccountMate has recognized the quality work of Prism.”

Founded in 1997, Prism Visual Software is a privately-owned software design company. The company develops mobile routing software that also integrates seamlessly with a variety of third-company products, such as AccountMate. Prism’s quality desktop and mobile solutions serve a wide range of industries, especially delivery and service companies. The company has gained industry-wide recognition for its software, especially for MiniMate, a handheld software solution for the routing and delivery industry.
